Help Seeker App

Residents looking for local services are encouraged to use "Help Seeker", a free mobile app that lists local organizations offering programs and services in the area. Made available as a pilot project through a partnership involving the City of Spruce Grove, Stony Plain FCSS and Parkland County, the HelpSeeker app allows residents to search for specific supports and connects them with local resources such as mental health supports, recreation, and food delivery services. You can also search available supports in neighbouring communities, including Edmonton.

The app can be downloaded from the App Store or Google Play store on any iOS or Android device. The tool can also be viewed online.
